PAINFUL, TRYING TIMES

Housework is hard enough for a healthy woman. The wife who has a bad back, who is weak or tired all the time, finds her duties a heavy burden. Thousands of nervous, discouraged, sickly women have traced their troubles to lack of blood and found quick and thorough relief through using Doan's Kidney Pills. The painful, trying times of woman's life are much easier to bear if the kidneys are well.

BUKHARA IS VERY PRIMITIVE

Interesting Sidelights on Life of an Almost Unknown People Under the Czar's Rule.

London.—Interesting sidelights on the life of the almost unknown people under the rule of the czar in Central Asia were given by Miss Christie, F. R. G. S., one of the first to be elected to that body, who has recently returned from a journey to Bokhara.

"The eleven gates of Bokhara," said Miss Christie, "are still shut every night at sundown, and the watchmen parade the streets after dark beating drums to show they are awake. The people were very friendly. The Bokhara idea of justice was direct and to the point. They took the condemned persons up to the top of the tower and then threw them down. Once was enough.

"The caravansary in the queer town was similar to those usually found in the east long ago. The little rooms look out over a small balcony into the yard. Underneath the rooms the cattle are kept.

"All the buildings, with the exception of the mosques and the towers, are built of clay, and the method of the builders is simplicity itself. A wooden framework is put up, and in the spaces between the wooden boards are pressed sun dried balls of mud. Then over all comes more mud, and in a very short time a house is built and ready for occupation.

Miss Christie was fortunate enough to see the Emir going to mosque and she also photographed him, which is considered something of a feat, for no one ever knows which of the many mosques he intends to enter. It was a Friday, and a crowd of subjects gathered near the mosque within a few yards of the palace.

FISH INTOXICATED ON BEER

Brewery Output Emptied into Stream Causes Chaos Among Piscatorial Tribe.

Mendota, Ill.—There will be no more fishing in the Mendota creek for months to come. It is improbable that the fish will be able to see the bait for several weeks. The banks recently were lined with hundreds of dead fish and the creek was full of others dead drunk.

Because of failure to pay the government tax the Mendota brewery was closed and 1,081 barrels of beer were emptied into the creek.

An hour later a conglomeration of queer sounds arose from the creek, from the mewling of cat fish to the deep bass of the bass. Several trunks were seen disporting themselves absurdly on a log and three bullfrogs staggered arm in arm down Main street, until taken into custody by a policeman. They couldn't hold, despite the fact that they were full of them.

Many of the fish limbed too freely and climbed out on shore, where they were fatally prostrated by the heat. Those who survived followed the beer down stream in large schools.

HANG UP GIRL TO BEAT HER?

Georgian is Charged With Inhuman Punishment of His Young Daughter.

Augusta, Ga.—Charges that he fastened a chain around the neck of his fifteen-year-old daughter, suspended her from a meat hook in his butcher shop and beat her with the butt end of a whip until the blood flowed from her wounds, were made against J. J. Johnson in the recorder's court.

Policeman Moore, who arrested Johnson, stated that he was called by neighbors who heard the girl's screams. The policeman said that when he reached the market he found Johnson's daughter, Nellie, suspended from a meat hook, suspended by a chain which had been wrapped twice around her neck and locked. Moore said that the girl's arms and neck showed evidence of severe beating. She was exhausted when released.

Johnson said he whipped his daughter because he could not control her. His case was continued. One of the specific charges against him is assault with intent to murder.

Kills Self With Ninth Shot.
Yonkers, N. Y.—Carl H. Nystrom, fifty-seven, a machinist, used up nine shots before he succeeded in killing himself at his home here. After firing his revolver once he had damped the empty shells upon the floor and reloaded the pistol. Five bullets were imbedded in the walls and ceiling, three lodged in the man's abdomen and the ninth penetrated the brain.

Blinders or Veils, Which?
Boston.—"It is going to be a choice between blinders for the men or veils for the women," said the Rev. Frederick E. Heath, pastor of the Warren Baptist church here, discussing the latest dresses worn by women. He asserted that the new styles in dress cause disgust to the "right minded."

IN SUCH PAIN WOMAN TORE HER CLOTHES

Testifies She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Malone, N. Y.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has certainly done me a lot of good. I first heard of it when I was a girl and I always said that if I ever had female trouble I would take it.

"I suffered from organic inflammation and would have spells when I would be in such pain that I would tear my clothes. One day my husband got the neighbors in to see what the matter was but they could not help me. My first thought was for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I sent my husband out for it and took it until I was entirely cured. I am a woman of perfect health and my health and happiness came from Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine. You may rest assured that I do all I can to recommend your wonderful medicine to my friends."—Mrs. Fred Stone, Route No. 3, Malone, N. Y.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

NOT JUST WHAT SHE MEANT

Under the Circumstances It Is to Be Hoped Minister Had a Sense of Humor.

When the new minister made his first pastoral call at the Brownings, he took little Anna on his knee and asked her if she had a kiss for him. But the little girl refused to kiss or be kissed. She squirmed loose and ran into the next room, where her mother was putting a few finishing touches to her adornment before going into the drawing room to greet the clergyman.

"Mamma," the little girl whispered, "the man in the drawing room wanted me to kiss him."

"Well," replied mamma, "why didn't you let him? I would if I was you."

Thereupon Anna ran back into the drawing room, and the minister asked: "Well, little lady, won't you kiss me now?"

"No, I won't," replied Anna, promptly, "but mamma says she will."

SCALP TROUBLE FOR YEARS

268 Harrison St., Elyria, Ohio.—"My case was a scalp trouble. I first noticed small bunches on my scalp which commenced to itch and I would scratch them and in time they got larger, forming a scale or scab with a little pus, and chunks of hair would come out when I would scratch them. It caused me to lose most of my hair. It became thin and dry and lifeless. I was troubled for over ten years with it until I got so bad I was ashamed to go to a barber to get my hair cut.

"I tried everything I could get hold of, and I received no cure until I commenced using Cuticura Soap and Ointment when the scale commenced to disappear. The way I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment was to wash my scalp twice a day with warm water and Cuticura Soap and rub on the Cuticura Ointment. I received benefit in a couple of weeks and was cured in two months."

How She Did It.

"That widow is a good manager, isn't she?"
"Manager? I should say so. She got that house of hers fixed up like new for nothing."

"How did she manage it?"
"She was engaged to the carpenter till all the woodwork was finished, and then she broke it off and married the plumber."

Winning a Welcome.

"Don't you get tired of talking about the tariff?"
"No," replied Senator Sorghum. "If some one would come up to me and talk about the tariff instead of getting an office, I'd throw away arms around his neck."—Washington Star.

She Knew.

"Miss Janet is a long time coming down," he said to the pretty parlor maid. "Perhaps she is—ha, ha—perhaps she is making up her mind whether to see me or not."

The maid smiled coldly.

"No," she said, "it is not her mind she is making up."

SAW COMING STAR IN CALVE

Al Hayman First to Recognize Singer's Great Powers, and Henry E. Abbey Did the Rest.

Several years ago Al Hayman, who was in London, met the late Henry E. Abbey, who was then our greatest impresario. Mr. Abbey was presenting opera at the Metropolitan and was searching Europe for new singers. As they sat over their coffee after a comfortable dinner in their club Mr. Hayman described the trip he had just taken through provincial France.

"And, by the way," said he, "I heard a most remarkable young woman sing Carmen at some little out-of-the-way place."

Searching through his pockets he finally came upon her name in his note book and gave it to Abbey, who seized his hat and called a cab. "Where are you going?" said Hayman. "I'm going to Paris immediately and find where she is and go to hear her," replied the impulsive Abbey. He found her in a dingy little opera house in a small provincial town and heard her sing Carmen. That night he had her signature to a contract, and that is how New York came to hear and acclaim the great Calve before ever Paris had heard of her.

Appliances for Measuring Time.

Mechanical appliances for measuring time were in use from the earliest ages and clocks of one kind or another were made in Europe before the discovery of America. Brass wheel clocks with weights, standing six feet high, such as are now called grandfather clocks, were common in England and Germany long before the revolutionary war. The first clockmaker in the United States was Eli Terry, who made his first clock with wooden wheels in 1792, and afterward made a great many, and they were good timekeepers. In 1807 he contracted to deliver 4,000 wooden wheel movements to a certain firm, and it took him three years to fill the order. Seth Thomas, once a well known Yankee clockmaker, learned his trade with Eli Terry. Brass wheel clocks were first made in the United States in 1837.

Never judge a railway by the cigars sold on its trains.

The Clocks We Wear.

The three marks on the back of a glove and the clocks on the stockings are due practically to the same circumstance. The glove marks correspond to the fourchette pieces between the fingers, and in other days these pieces were continued along the back of the hand, band being used to conceal the seams. A somewhat similar origin is assigned to the ornamental clock on the stockings. In the days when stockings were made of cloth, the seams occurred where the clocks do now, the ornamentation then being used to conceal the seams. The useless little bow in the leather band lining a man's hat is the survival of the time when a hat was made by taking a piece of leather, boring two holes through it and drawing it up with a piece of string.—Harper's Weekly.

First Newspaper.

The Acta Diurna (Acts of the Day), instituted by Julius Caesar, comes about as near being the first newspaper as anything we can find. There was an official editor, and the gazette was exhibited daily in public. It was copied by scribes, who sold it to their customers. The Acta contained announcements or decrees by the government, notices relating to the courts, and other matters of public interest, such as births, marriages and deaths. It had a wide circulation and in many ways fulfilled the office of a regular newspaper.

Wisdom.

Boo-hoo, the learned Punjab, awake, salaamed, and spoke.

"He who hath a high forehead surely will he have his eyes beneath it, and of a verity live all the days of his life."

"He who is bald will doubtless have but little hair, but the little that he hath surely will he not have it on the bald places."

Thus relieved of the burden, the learned Punjab salaamed again, and slumber again fell upon his eyelids.—Browning's Magazine.

Flour of Another Color.

He'd been waiting with his host's ugly elder daughter, and was in a corner repairing damages. Here he was espied by his would-be papa-in-law.

"She is the flower of my family, sir," said the father.

"So it seems," answered the young man. "But she comes off so, isn't it?" he continued, as he essayed another vigorous rub at the white spots on his sole sleeve.

He Was a Lucky Architect.

Secretary Bryan was listening to the praises of a financial magnate that a senator was singing at a dinner.

"He's the architect of his own fortune, too," said the senator; "entirely the architect of his own fortune."

"Well," said Secretary Bryan, "it's a lucky thing for him that the building inspector didn't come around while the operation was going on."

Met Them Everywhere.

A detective remarked at the Middlesex (Eng.) sessions that he knew a prisoner to have associated with men of bad characters.

No Crossness.

"Did the attorney for the defense cross-examine you?"
"Oh, dear, no!" replied Mrs. Pinfold. "He was just as pleasant about it as he could be!"—Woman's Home Companion.

Some of Continent's Altitudes.

The maximum difference in elevation of land in the United States is 14,777 feet, according to the United States geological survey. Mount Whitney, the highest point, is 14,501 feet above sea level, and a point in Death Valley is 276 feet below sea level. These two points, which are both in California, are less than ninety miles apart. This difference is small, however, as compared with the figures for Asia. Mount Everest rises 29,002 feet above sea level, whereas the shores of the Dead Sea are 1,290 feet below sea level, a total difference in land heights of 30,292 feet. Mount Everest has never been climbed. The greatest ocean depth yet found is 32,988 feet, at a point about fifty miles north of the island of Mindanao, in the Philippine islands. The ocean bottom at this point is therefore more than eleven and a half miles below the summit of Mount Everest.

In the Same Boat.

William is small, but shrewd and quick-witted. A little lazy, however, he has been slow to learn to read. The other day his grandfather, whom he loves dearly, thought to prick the little lad's pride. Pretending to have mislaid his glasses, he handed William the menu of the restaurant, where, as a favorite treat, he had taken his grandson to luncheon. "I can't read without my glasses, son," he explained. "You read the ice cream list to me." Said William swiftly and solemnly: "I can't read without glasses, either."

Long-Lived English Family.

Five brothers and sisters, named Harris, whose united ages total 438 years, met at a birthday party at Radnage, Bucks, England. Their ages are ninety-six, ninety-two, eighty-eight, eighty-two and eighty, an average of more than eighty-seven. Five other members of the same family, who have died, were aged ninety-three, eighty-nine, eighty-eight, eighty-seven and seventy-seven.

Some Credit Going to Pat.

An Irishman was one day engaged at stone-breaking on the roadside, and not being used to the work could not get on very fast. A friend of his who chanced to pass by as Pat was belaboring a large stone with renewed vigor, tried to show him the right way, and taking the hammer from him broke the stone with ease.

Said Pat:

"Sure, now, and it is easy for ye to break the stone after I have been softening it for the last half-hour."
